The Legislature Hits the Speck Easy.

An Act Making the Second Conviction a Felony.

The advance chapters of the Acts of the Legislature have arrived and may be seen at the County Clerk's office.

Chapter 32 has been amended making the penalties for selling intoxicants without a license much heavier. For the first offense the fine is not less than $25 and imprisonment in the county jail not less than two months nor more than six months. Upon the second conviction the penalty is one year in the penitentiary. It is needless to say this act is of great interest to the people of this county.

The license for selling revolvers and other weapons prohibited to be carried about the person is fixed at $100 a year. This does not include the sale of rifles and shot guns.

Wooddell-Hamilton.

A nicely arranged society event occurred at the home of the bride near Linnwood at 10.30 a. m., August 31, 1904, when George Edward Wooddell and Miss Hatie Helena Hamilton were united in marriage, Rev. Wm. T. Price, D. D., officiating.

The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wooddell and is a young farmer and stock dealer with good prospects. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hamilton and is a much esteemed young person.

The parties were attended by Miss Mary Wooddell, sister of the groom, escorted by Grover Wooddell.

Immediately after the ceremony all were invited to the home of the groom in the near vicinity where a beautiful and elegantly served dinner was enjoyed by numerous guests.

Many attached friends sincerely wish these worthy young people much happiness and prosperity in their new life.

Fine Bred Horse.

H. M. Speicher with the firm Trexter, Bros. & Co., Importers and Breeders of thoroughbred horses, Aitch, Pennsylvania, is in Marlinton with a thoroughbred Percheron Stallion which he wishes to place in this county. The horse is three years old and weighed 1950 lbs. when placed on board the car at the stock farm, but five days in a box car caused him to drift to 1820 pounds. We are glad to see these heavy draft horses coming to our county and hope the farmers will breed horses suitable for the lumber woods. All our horses are now brought from elsewhere, principally from the Valley of Virginia. The large lumber operators, of whom there are now a large number, spend yearly many thousands of dollars for horses, and will continue to do so for years to come. It would add much to the prosperity of Pocahontas were this sum saved each year to us.

Enough of England.

Mrs. Maybrick for fifteen years incarcerated in an English prison on charge of murdering her husband, which was never sustained, has arrived at her home in New York. Her husband, a dissolute English Count, found for his wife an American heiress. The husband died from an overdose of strichnine of which he was an habitual user. The wife was arrested on suspicion and thrown in prison, despite the fact that no evidence could be found against her in the preliminary hearing. Special effort for her release was made by the wife of the vice president of the United States and the wives of the cabinet officers in President Harrison's term but nothing came of their petition to the Queen.

The Difference.

Mr. Cornwell has resigned his seat in the senate. Mr. Parker has resigned his position as chief justice of the court of appeals of New York, which carried an annual salary of $17,500, and the term is fourteen years. Both these gentlemen are Democrats.

Dawson is the Republican nominee for governor, but he doesn't resign his place as secretary of state. The snap is too good to be parted with besides the uncertainty of the election. Fairbanks, Republican nominee for vice-president, holds on to his senatorship, as the pay and perquisites of the office come in handy. When Roosevelt was named for vice-president he was governor of New York and he held on to the job with its financial attachments until the law forced him to let go. See the difference! The Charleston Milling and Supply Company Establishes a Branch in Marlinton.

Marlinton has a new business enterprise in the way of a feed and general supply store, at the old Smith & Whiting stand. The Charleston Milling and Supply Company has established a branch here with G. W. Clark in charge. They keep on hand a large supply of flour and feed stuffs, which handling it as they do from the time it leaves the farmer's fields they can guarantee to maintain a high standard that cannot be approached by the jobber who buys here and there and everywhere, giving the consumer the benefit of the middleman's profit. The short time they have been opened for trade they have had an encouraging trade. Their methods are thoroughly up-to-date, and consequently it goes without the saying they are using printers' ink to an advantage.

The Marlinton branch is in charge of G. W. Clark former street commissioner of the City of Charleston. For the past year he has been engaged as a buyer of grain for the company in Ohio, with home and headquarters at Gallipolis. We hope he will be so favorably impressed with Marlinton as to retain his position as manager of the company's business here after he has established it, and move his family here and become one of us.

Lies From the Front.

September 10—The Japanese attacked the Russians on the banks of the river Tsi. Gen. Kuroki turned his flank around. He drove Gen. Kuropatkin's left against his center. Loss is heavy. 27,965 men were killed on each side. The Japs have the advantage.

September 11—The engagement on the river Tsi continues. Heavy firing all day. Kuropatkin's center extricated itself from the mad charge of the Japanese but his right has been crumpled up. The Japanese under Gen. Omayo have crossed the river. The loss is heavy on both sides. Since the beginning of the engagement each side has lost over 1,000 men.

September 12—It is believed by war experts that the battle on the river Tsi is not decisive. The advantage is with the Japs who hold the ferry boat Picken. The Japanese took 200 prisoners. Losses were greatly exaggerated in early dispatches.

September 13—In the skirmish on the river Tsi at Picken the Russians retook the ferry boat but report the loss of one gun.

September 14—The London Times war expert says that owing to the fierce fighting in Manchuria the end of the war will not be delayed over thirty years.

Look not upon the wine when it is red,

For if you do next morning at the break of day,

You will wake up with an aching head,

And wonder why it hurts you that way.

You may think that water is a tasteless drink,

And call for something that will hold a bead,

But wait until you listen to the clink,

Of the ice against the pitcher that you need.

As the water cuts a furrow down your gullet,

Patting out the fire last night you piled so high,

You are might apt to say,

Take that fiery run away,

I am on the water wagon for to stay.
